LARGE COKE CONTRACT CLOSED IN PITTSBURG

Million Tons of Coke to be Supplied by Independents

HILLMAN & SONS SELL

News of Recent Deal Leak Out—Work of Supply is Already Begun

Within the last few days an order was placed through the brokerage firm in Pittsburgh of J. H. Hillman and Sons for one million tons of coke to be delivered by independent producers of Western Pennsylvania to a large industrial concern. This story which is told today as a fact indicates not only a big improvement in the coal and coke trade, but gives evidence of the restored confidence of big industrial concerns in the return of prosperity.

Already it is further told the work of supplying the trade has been started. The name of the purchasing concern is not given out, but it is hinted that the coke will be used in Pennsylvania either by a large corporation operating in the Pittsburgh district or at a point farther east. However the concern is not an associate of the United States Steel corporation, neither will any of the coal producers who will benefit be of the H. C. Frick Coal and Coke company. The contract means that one and one-half million tons of coal will be required. Eighty thousand tons of coke must be supplied each month, and the first shipment has, it is stated, been made.

Fayette county coke fields will profit by the contract where the independents operate. The contract is a normal contract like some of the larger plants close each year, and this is taken as an indication of good business about to begin.

DOUBLE WEDDING PERFORMED WITH SISTERS AS BRIDES

A double wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Charles, pastor of the French Presbyterian church at his parsonage, 762 Meadow avenue Tuesday evening, when the contracting couples were Miss Leola M. Zimmerman, who was married to Harry Youngman, and Miss Erna W. Zimmerman who was married to Emil Vandemer. The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman of Lincoln avenue.

Preparations are being made by the two newlywedded couples together with the parents of the brides to remove to a large farm in Mercer county. For the present the two couples will not take any wedding trip. The young people are well known young folk of the community.

Bentleyville Man Injured

King Jones Has Nose Broken in Peculiar Manner While in Automobile

King Jones, a well-known employee of the Bentleyville hardware company of Bentleyville, suffered rather serious injuries Tuesday. Jones and Seth Altman had started to the hunting grounds in the Altman automobile. The car struck a rough place in the road with a jarring effect that hurled Jones from his position in the rear seat. He did not fall out but struck his face against the side of the car. His nose was broken by the abrupt and heavy impact and the blow across the forehead was more or less serious. Directly after the accident he was taken to the office of Dr. Emmet Black. Later he was removed to his home on South Main street. The exact result of the injury has not been ascertained as yet.

MONESSEN PROSPEROUS

However Some of Boom Stories Coming From
There Are Denied

FILLING WIRE ORDER

Prosperity is being felt at Monessen, although some of the stories that have lately gained circulation concerning operations at the Pittsburgh Steel company's plant have been denied by General Superintendent Christopher Mogan. The prosperity is showing mostly in the barbed wire department.

Activity in the barbed wire department has been continued for some time. It is due to large orders received from Russia and France where barbed wire is desired as entanglements during the warfare now being practiced. Other plants than the Pittsburgh Steel company, notably one at Donora are filling similar orders.

A story that came from Pittsburgh this morning that the Pittsburgh Steel company has issued orders for the firing of four large open hearth furnaces which have been idle for some time, was denied this morning by Superintendent Mogan. He also denied any story to the effect that employees would be put to work on five days a week time.

The Pittsburgh Produce company a subsidiary of the Pittsburgh Steel company, is working in good shape.

Notices were posted Tuesday to the effect that two mills which have been shut down for some time due to lack of orders will begin operations at the plant of the Carnegie Steel company in Homestead.

POTASH PLANT TO BE BUILT IN PITTSBURG

Pittsburg has a new industry in the form of a potash plant which will aid the local potash situation. The new plant will be an important factor in the Pittsburgh district from the fact that it will use thousands of tons of slag from the steel mills, which are now being thrown on the dump. This slag is ground and mixed with Tennessee phosphate brick and becomes effective and immediately available for fertilizer.

The shutting off of the supply of potash from Germany by reason of the European war has made it almost impossible for the American farmers to secure potash fertilizer.

TER WORK.

Pittsburg is at present to provide all-winter for city employees. In years there have always been who work with their if you please, who aid off for weeks or may-in the cold weather and been much consequent suf-the city proposes, says the Reporter to remedy this arranging the work of the city way that there may be pro-employment for the laborers all erg shows both an ap-humanitarian principles of economic values in action. Of all times for ay-laborers, winter is the worst. The man the street is not very by him much for a rainy age will scarcely permit as a comfortable bank the wet weather finan-ella. His is usually a hand existence and the existence nally is of the same characthrow such a man out of en winter's cold is upon him short of criminal. But it ys been done and it taken as of course—that is, by the who do not suffer by the cusinevitable result of this lay-of laborers in winter time is er drain on the city's charidepartments. Even a city can-mit the unfortunate of its into starve outright before es of all the people. Consethere must be big charitable there must be much system many persons employed to carry and the work of caring for the fortunate by depriving them of in the hardest season of the And so the city shows itself gaunt along economic lines. It dis-poor business sense.

In addition to being compelled to and money to care for the hosts of work the city will at the same be making paupers and non-workers as fast as it can. The unfornates who live the hand to mouth istence will soon gain the idea and it rightly, that if they have no rk the city will care for them. at is a very certain incentive to uperism. And so it goes on and and pretty soon some good people nd their sleek heads and rub their nd paunches and wonder what the ld is coming to with all this grow-r pauper class. And somehow or er they never pause to consider at they and their beloved city with antediluvian methods are wholto blame.

Pittsburg is groping toward the lution of the problem in planning provide work straight through-e winter for the laborers it employs.
f course it will not wholly solve a problem for then it would be anything beyond human and a city nothing but the bits of humanity of hich it is composed. But Pittsburg erves credit for working in the ght direction. It deserves credit for lizing its duty to humanity and it erves credit for displaying an onomical sense which is decidedly reshing in any municipality.

EARLY SHOPPING.

Christmas is just six weeks away, nd not a word has been heard concerning early shopping. By right of the season, it seems two Humanitarian, as well as business reasons demand early Christmas shopping—humanitarian, because of the lessening of heavy tissue destroying duties falling upon worn shopgirls and tired storekeepers; business, from purely economic reasons.

It is a fact well realized by experienced persons that an early shopper commands attention and a choice selection of materials that otherwise would not be forthcoming. Belated buyers of Christmas goods of necessity must be satisfied with the leavings, and it naturally occurs that the leavings are not the best considering they have been much picked over and in plain terms, are nothing but just “leavings.”

Merchants encourage early shopping through a realization of their ability to please better than at a late period. And to be able to please means more for the continuance of a satisfactory all year round trade than anything else. Too, economic wastes and wastes in point of efficiency result from the disorder that invariably attends a busy Christmas season. They are destructive.

Both the buyer and seller reap benefit from early buying. Why folks never learn this is an oddity, if nothing worse. It is not too late to learn it too soon to buy, whether or not the Thanksgiving turkey order has been placed.

SURVEYING IN FAR NORTH

Work Has to Be Done Quickly or Party Is in Grave Danger of Being Frozen In.

North of the Porcupine river, on the upper section of the Alaska-Canada boundary survey, the geodesists assigned to this work by the two governments found that only 100 days elapsed from the first navigation up the river in May until it was time to retreat rather than take the risk of being frozen in.
The highest and most difficult climbs on the work were probably made this last season, when one of the Canadian topographical parties occupied Mount Natarhat, 13,000 feet high, and a joint American and Canadian party succeeded in getting up without about two thousand feet of the summit of Mount St. Elias, which towers 18,000 feet above the sea. This party would probably have been successful in reaching the summit had not a four days' snow storm depleted their supplies to such an extent that they were forced to retreat to their base, 40 miles away over the glaciers.—Engineering Record.

WELL ADAPTED TO THE WORK

Dredge Employed to Dig Channel Through Cranberry Marsh a Credit to Designers.

In Wisconsin there is a clamshell-bucket dredge in use which at each shovelful removes an amount of material much greater than the size of the bucket itself. The reason is that the outfit is being used to dig a channel through a cranberry marsh, where the material to be cleared away varies all the way from tangled weeds to hardpan. The eventual object of this channel, which is 30 feet wide and 6 feet deep, is to drain 1,500 acres of cranberry land. In one section of this land there is a lake, the waters of which must be distributed throughout the bogs during certain seasons of the year. The use of this type of bucket, which, besides digging into hard ground, will also come away with bushels of underbrush, matted boughs etc., hanging from its jaws, illustrates the art of adapting the tool to the work.—Popular Mechanics.

Angeworm “Farm.”

There are “farms,” it seems, the products of which bear no relation to farming as ordinarily pursued. The latest addition to the list is an angle-worm “farm,” conducted by Mr. W.
Orton Moon, who lives near Grand Rapids, Mich. His farm is one of the curiosities of Michigan. It consists of 25 pails, pots, pans and old crocks.
Each receptacle, or “field,” contains from 40 to 500 angworms.
During the last three years his peculiar crop has netted him $1,000 annually. He delivers his worms in oiledpaper packages, one dozen to the package, at ten cents each. Here is his way of rearing angworms: Get several good angworms. Place them in an ordinary pail, or granite receptacle, with two double handfuls of earth. Feed the worms twice a day on coffee grounds and corn meal. They will thrive and multiply.—Youth's Companion.

Gasometer Sings for Aviators.

Mr. W. J. Lugard, representing the Tourist club of Holland, recently made an interesting proposal at a meeting of the congress of the League of International Touring associations, says London Answers.

Aviators experience much difficulty in ascertaining their whereabouts when flying over towns and villages at a considerable height, and Mr. Lugard suggested that at the top of every gasometer a large arrow should be painted with the tip pointing north.
His scheme included the use of index letters and reference numbers. For example, if SX were index letters representing Sussex, and Horsham were No. 8 on the list of towns in that county, the local gasometer would be marked SX8.

Sad Ending of Expedition.

Captain Kelsey, leader of the Cape to Cairo motor car expedition, has died as the sequel to the injuries which he received on April 12 while leopard hunting. Thus tragically ends the Cape to Cairo expedition, which started so auspiciously, the king himself receiving its members at Buckingham palace, the Duchess of Argyll christening the car, the governor-general presenting it with a large and large bodies of friends in wishing it farewell.

SETBACK FOR THE OPTIMIST

According to Pessimist, He Had Failed Utterly to See Things in Their Proper Light.

“Look at this, will you?” exclaimed the cheerful real estate man. “In this paper there is a record of eighty-seven marriage licenses issued yesterday.”
“Well, what of it?” said his partner, the pessimist of the firm.
“What of it?” echoed the other.
“Can't you see? Those eighty-seven marriage licenses mean eighty-seven marriages. The eighty-seven marriages will lead to eighty-seven inquiries for houses, flats, or at least eligible apartments. It's bound to stimulate business in our line and we'll get our share.” “That doesn't follow at all. Those eighty-seven licenses represent 174 persons, don't they?”
“Yes.”
“Probably all adults?”
“Undoubtedly. What of it?”
“Nothing,” growled the pessimist; “except that 174 persons who have hitherto occupied 174 apartments will hereafter occupy eighty-seven, and that ain't helping our business any.
You make me tired.”

Not Disturbing the Bass.

The owner of a private lake was not a little agitated to see a man com-posedly fishing in the pond right beneath the immense sign prohibiting trespassing. With hasty steps, the irate owner hurried for the waterside. “Look here,” he explosively exclaimed, “can't you see that sign? Don't you know you are trespassing? I want you to distinctly understand that this lake is privately owned, and that fishing here is not permitted.” “Just a moment, my dear sir,” was the calm rejoinder of the fisherman, as he withdrew his line and rebaited the hook.
“Would you mind telling me what kind of ‘fish’ you stocked the pond with?” “I stocked it with black bass!” cried the excited owner. “and I don't propose—” “That's all right, sir,” interjected the fisherman, casting his line. “There is no occasion to worry.
I am fishing for pike.”

Garlic for Wasp Stings.

The inhabitants of French Switzerland add a very rubbed clove of garlic upon a spot that has been stung by a wasp or a bee. According to Professor Mermod of Lausanne, this makes the swelling go down and takes away the pain.

"No Alum"

must be the watchword when the housewife buys baking powder.

Alum is well known to be a powerful astringent, and should never be used in food.

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M. D., of the University of Pennsylvania, says: "I consider the use of alum baking powder highly injurious to health."

Food economy now, more than ever, demands the purchase and use of those food articles of known high quality and absolute purity and healthfulness.

Sprains, Bruises Stiff Muscles

Sloan's Liniment will save hours of suffering. For bruise or sprain it gives instant relief. It arrests inflammation and thus prevents more serious troubles developing. No need to rub it in—it acts at once, instantly relieving the pain, however severe it may be.

Here's Proof
Charles Johnson, P. O. Box 108, Lawrence, Mo., writes: "I sprained my ankle and dislocated my left hip by falling out of a third story window six months ago. I went on crutches for four months, then I started to use some of your Liniment, according to your directions, and I must say that it is helping me wonderfully. I threw my crutches away. Only used two bottles of your Liniment and now I am walking quite well with one cane. I never will be without Sloan's Liniment."

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Charleroi.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Charleroi citizen. Can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had?

Mrs. Rowe, 1005 McKean Ave., Charleroi, Pa., says: "For some time one of the family thought he had rheumatism. He suffered from severe pains in his back and limbs and found it hard to stoop to put on his shoes. Every fall and winter he was bothered. He finally got Doan's Kidney Pills from Piper's Pharmacy and began taking them. In a short time he felt much better. I used this remedy some years ago and know that it lives up to the claims made for it."

Confirmed Proof.
On January 29, 1914, Mrs. Rowe said: "I am willing to have you continue using my name recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to rid us of kidney disorders. I advise anyone being bothered with their kidneys to try this remedy."

Firing Guns by Wireless.
"We are only on the threshold of wireless development," declared Mr. Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi company, to an interviewer the other day, "and, as an indication of the uses to which 'wireless' may be put in the future, I may mention that by means of wireless it is possible to light the lamp of a buoy and to fire a signal gun in foggy weather. These things are now being done by the Marconi company and, although I do not put them forward as being in any way wonderful, nevertheless they give an indication of how very considerable developments in wireless may arise from little elementary beginnings of that kind."

DECRIES MODERN WAYS

ENGLISH PREACHER URGES RETURN TO OLD IDEAS.

Bess Evi. Days Ahead for the Nation in the Decay of Family Life—Wealthy Homes Included in the Exhortation.

An English prophet against what he regarded as the decay of family life in the country, followed by the warning that it would conduce to the fall of England, as it had in great part to the fall of Greece and Rome in ancient times, was made by Canon Mackenzie in the course of a sermon preached at St. Paul's cathedral, London, England.

Regarding his remarks with a description of the home life of Christ as a child, he declared that the nursery of the salvation of the world was home and home life. It was a fact patent on all sides that home and the discipline of home were on the wane, and with this were being lost the best opportunities there were for noble education. There was something about the atmosphere of a Jewish home which was learned by no direct teaching, but which breathed its benison upon the household and unconsciously affected it. That was the duty owed to the parents and the solidarity of the family life.

Among Christian people, he said, in the homes of the poor it was often the woman who was called upon to drudge till she died to keep the family together. The idea of being responsible for such care of girlhood as would prevent its ruin was a thing unthinkable in many a house. The girl, as soon as she had her evening meal, went out with her friend and came home when she would. Little children of three and four openly defied their parents, and he had seen such parents apparently showing off to a circle of admiring friends on a bank holiday "the spirit that is in him" when a creature of six kicked his father's shins and cursed his mother to her face.

In the homes of the wealthy the same cancer of lack of parental authority and want of discipline was felt. The parents were tolerated by the rising generation rather than held in reverence. A familiarity which tended to make a father's word of no avail was fostered from early days. The news between son and home as soon as the young man went out into the world was a purely casual nexus, and the girl grew up to feel that home duties were intolerable. At the first opportunity she would join her girl friend in a flat and arrange her life without any reference to her father or mother.

"Greece passed away with all its brilliance partly because it had no home life," he continued. "Rome found its belief in home life too weak to withstand the change from city state to empire, and the corroding influence of a decadent orientalism. There is nothing that would prevent our going the way of Greece and Rome unless we will once more make the ideal of home that Christ would have it to be, open the eyes of the fathers and mothers of the land to their sense of opportunity as the makers of the character of the next generation, and recall the children to the duties owed to the home."

He Decided to Turn Out

It took 1,200 pounds of dynamite to force a "road hog" descending the Bear Creek hill, in Santa Ana canyon to give the right of way to Henry Shay, of the Bear Valley Transportation company, who was headed for the top. At a narrow stretch in the grade the two machines stopped with in a few feet of each other. There was no room to turn out except on some rocks.

"I have a heavy truckload, and can't make it," Shay, told the driver of the touring car.

"That's not my fault," retorted the other. "I can't turn out."

"Well, all right. Smash into my machine if you want to," yelled Shay.

"There's 1,200 pounds of dynamite aboard."

The descending automobile backed up and turned out without further ceremony.—San Bernardino (Cal.) Dispatch Los Angeles Times Quick Wit Bats Robbers.

John Neale and William P. Shepard, cashier and assistant cashier of the Sackett & Williams Lithograph company, carrying a bag containing $9,400 were held up by three young men as they waited for the elevator in the plant or the company at Grand street and Morgan avenue, Williamsburg, N. Y. Two of the men drew revolvers and the third assailed Neale and Shepard with a blackjack. Neale hung on to the bag as he fell, but dropped it just as the elevator came down. Charles H. Booth, the elevator man, saw what was happening, seized the bag, threw it back into the elevator, and before the astonished highwaymen knew what was happening, he was shooting aloft. The holdup men got away, leaving Neale and Shepard badly bruised.

BEALLSVILLE

Thursday Free Blaine Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hill, of Gay street and Mrs. Josephine T. Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Kelley, of Deemston borough, were married by the Rev. T. W. Young of Washington, pastor of the Beallsville Presbyterian church. The wedding came as a surprise. But the real surprise came later when the bride and groom returned from their honeymoon and went to the home of Mr. Hill's parents. The younger set of the Beallsville and Deemston sections got word of the arrival and prepared to give a serenade. Accordingly a mule and cart were procured, and amidst the din of horns and other rosemakers the party proceeded to the Hill home. There took place one of the noisiest as well as one of the most unique serenades that was ever held here. Finally, the newlyweds appeared. Some who were standing near the door got hold of the groom, who was taken forcibly to the cart and deposited therein. But the bride decided she would not go. After much coaxing, she finally agreed as nothing would do as an alternative and the procession started.

The couple in the cart, headed by a part of the Beallsville Cornet band, and noise makers, traversed Main street in right jolly fashion. They were then taken to the Hill home, when they were informed that a "great awaited them 'down town.'" Mr. and Mrs. Hill who are well known young people will make Beallsville their home.

Mrs. Walter J. Dague of Monessen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chiver Buckingham, of near Beallsville and a sister of Mrs. Frank Amos, of this place, who had been confined in the Presbyterian hospital, North Side, Pittsburg for several weeks, was able to be brought to her home, Saturday, much improved in health. Mrs. Amos expects to leave the latter part of the week to spend some time with Mrs. Dague.

Albert Amos of Charleroi is spending a few days at the home of his brother, Frank Amos of Beallsville. Mrs. W. B. Flick of "The Pines," accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Harry S. Smith of Coraopolis, have departed for Kansas City, Kansas, for an extended visit to relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stoy, of California are spending a some time at "The Pines."

Mrs. Caroline Holder has returned from a pleasant visit among Washington relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Acklin of Beallsville have returned home after a visit to relatives in the Clyde section.

NOTED MUSICAL MEN COMING FOR LOCAL CONCERT

Friday night of this week at the high school auditorium a Red Cross concert will be given under the direction of Prof. Carl Retter. On the face of it the concert should be about the finest thing in music that ever happened in Charleroi, since the array of talent being gotten together for the occasion, pre-announcements considered is among the best in the country.

Prof. Retter himself has the reputation of being experienced orchestral director who is known the country over. He has been inactive in musical work during the last several months. He is now living near Brownsville. A Mexican cellist of much repute in the musical world, Alvaro Cerda, together with John Oberhauser, a viola player will be included in the number of soloists secured by Prof. Retter.

In addition to the out-of-town talent that has been secured, local musicians will assist. Miss May Barth, pianist, Miss Ethel Barth, soprano, and Warren Kinder, tenor, will be soloists. The proceeds from the concert will be handled by the American Red Cross society, which has head offices at Washington, D. C. for the alleviation of distress in Europe. W. D. Pollock, who is the president of the local association, will simply turn over the funds to the Washington officers of the society.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Secretary Daniels has ordered the division of operations to get into communication as soon as possible with the cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee, to learn if one of them has met with a mishap, as has been rumored. Rumors are in the air that the North Carolina has been blown up by a mine at Beirut. The last direct communication the department had from the two vessels was on November 2. The secretary and the navy officials feel that there is nothing to the report.

London, Nov. 11.—There is great rejoicing in England at the report that the German raider Emden has been trapped in an east African river. The British marine insurance rate was almost instantly cut in half. Never since the days of the Alabama has there been such successful destroyer as the Emden. The Germans and Russians are clashing in cavalry engagements along the German frontier. The Russians are still harassing the Austrians in Galicia and the French, British and Belgians are uniting to hold what appears to be a tremendous German attempt to break through the allies line in the vicinity of Ypres. The German attacks on the allies are said to be weakening.

Rome, Nov. 11.—Germany, alarmed at the Russian success has made preliminary offers of peace to the Russian government, which have been rejected. Vienna, Nov. 11.—Preparations are being rushed for the second siege of Przemyśl. It is reported that the Russians are equipped with new eight inch French guns. Constantinople, Nov. 11.—Russian cruisers have bombarded the forts in Bosphorus and the coal magazine at Heraclea, Asia Minor. The Turkish fleet sailed out against the Russians, but soon withdrew. At Heraclea the Russians sunk a large number of merchant vessels.
